Member Investment Switches

Member investment switches received for current account balance and future contributions take effect as follows:

Current balances: An application to change investment option for an existing balance is effective the day after the valuation of assets for those requests received by 5pm EST on the day of valuation. Assets are typically valued on a Monday.

Future contributions: Are effective the day after a request for investment change is received.

Calculating Investment Returns

1. LUCRF values assets weekly and uses weekly crediting rates to allocate net investment earnings to members.
2. Valuations typically occur each Monday during the month and at month end.
3. Valuations may not occur on a Monday for the following reasons:
 - a. When the first Monday of the month is within the first three business days of the month, the valuation is typically deferred to the following Monday.
 - b. When the last Monday of the month is within the last three business days of the month, the valuation is typically deferred to month end.
 - c. Where Monday is a public holiday, investments will be valued on the next business day.
4. The valuation process uses the closing prices in the Australian and overseas markets in which we have investments. Unlisted investments and real estate assets are valued less frequently. We use the most recent valuation available.
5. Crediting rates allocate net investment earnings to members based on daily account balances. Investment returns are applied to members' accounts:
 - When a benefit is paid
 - When an accumulation balance is transferred to a pension account
 - When a change to investment options is processed and
 - Effective 30 June each year.
6. Financial year to date and historical crediting rates are shown on LUCRF Super's website www.lucrf.com.au

If the Tuesday is a public holiday in Melbourne, the change will apply from the next working day.

I understand that I will be assigned the Fund interim rate on funds changed from my current account balance.
